

More about our sample packages

We offer a sample package that is about 100 lbs and contains samples of our most frequently ordered items from our list of products. If you are one of our exclusive dealers under contract, you can obtain it for free. The package contains several DVDs presenting product information and installation techniques for a variety of products. In the box, you will find several catalogues, technical reports, brochures, fliers, posters and banners. It has a large collection of product samples such as light gauge Steel framing samples, special clips and fasteners, siding samples, insulation samples, paneling samples, roofing samples, and samples from several different manufacturers. You will also receive pictures of recently completed projects from other international dealers, shop drawings of most recent model homes, and much more.

If you are not one of our exclusive dealers but wish to have this collection for your showroom or office, we would be happy to ship you one anywhere in the world for a refundable good faith deposit of $5,000. This fee includes the shipping cost via FedEx or DHL, the cost of the samples, and our labor. However, upon receiving of your first order, we will refund your good faith deposit and apply it to your order.

To order please e-mail your request to info@SteelFrameHousing.org for additional information.
